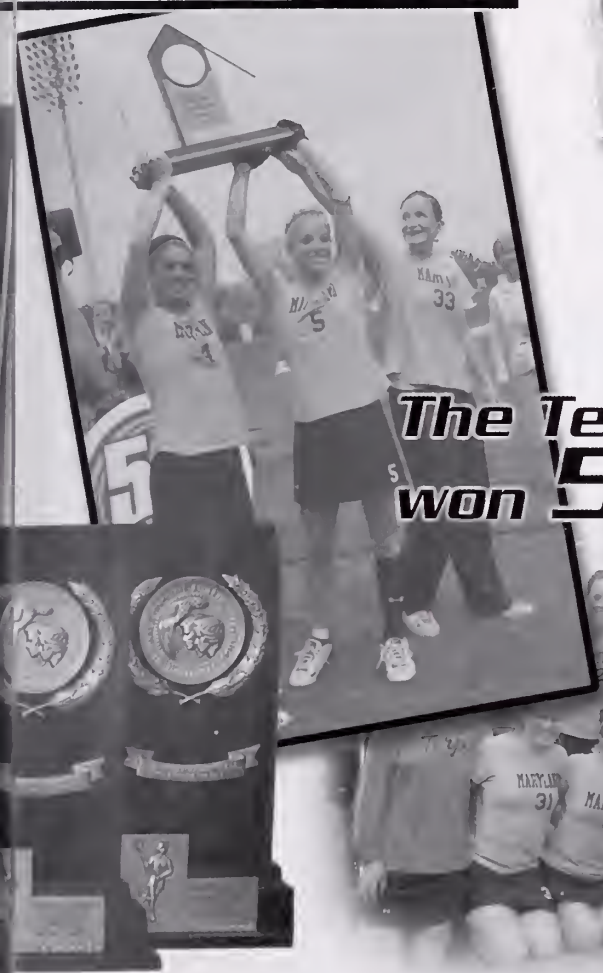
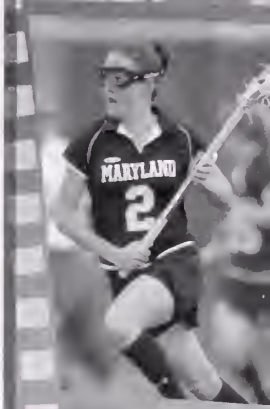
IN THE SPOTLIGHT

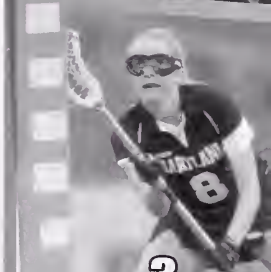
From Inside Lacrosse to Sports Illustrated, the Terps are covered throughout the nation.

Jen Adams won the 2001 Tewaarton Award as the nation's top women's lacrosse player, as well as the Honda Award for the second straight year. In 2001 she set the NCAA records for career points (445) and assists (174).



The Terps have won 5 of 9 ACC titles!





Terps AT THE 2005 World Cup

WITH A ROSTER INCLUDING SEVEN TERRAPINS, AUSTRALIA WON THE 2005 IFWLA WORLD CUP IN ANNAPOLIS, MD.

In 2005, the International Federation of Women's Lacrosse Associations' World Cup was played in Annapolis, Md. With so many players having ties to the University of Maryland, the World Cup had a distinct Terrapin flavor.

At the championships, which were won by Australia, a total of 13 former and current Terrapin lacrosse players represented their respective countries. The champion Aussies featured seven Terrapin players, including Jen Adams (2001), Sarah Forbes (1997), Courtney Hobbs (2002), Sonia Judd (2003), Casey Magor (current), Tess McLeod (2004) and Sascha Newmarch (1998). In addition, five members of the American team played lax in College Park. Among them were Quinn Carney (2001), Randall Goldsborough (1996), Kelly Amonte Hiller (1996), Kristin Sommar (2000) and Jess Wilk (1990). Finally Laura Warren (2004) was a starting attacker for the Welsh team.

On the 12-member All-World Team, seven of those hailed from the University of Maryland. Of the 20 games played at the World Cup in which a Maryland Terrapin was on the roster, a Terp player was recognized as "Player of the Match" nine times. Forbes was named the tournament's "Most Valuable Player" for her efforts for the Aussies. Adams was the leading scorer among all players at the World Cup with 47 points on 21 goals and 26 assists. Her 26 assists set a new World Cup record.

The Terps' Coaching Impact

OVER 20 FORMER TERPS ARE NOW COLLEGE COACHES.

The University of Maryland has a long-reaching impact on the sport of women's lacrosse, primarily because of the significant number of players the program has sent into the coaching ranks. Over 20 former Terrapins are now on the sidelines as college coaches. From the West Coast, where Michele Uhlfelder (Maryland, '91) leads Stanford, to the Midwest where Kelly Amonte-Hiller (Maryland, '96) heads Northwestern, to the East Coast where Courtney Martinez Connor (Maryland, '91) was recently appointed as head coach at UMBC, the Terps continue to make their mark in the sport.

Season Outlook

TERPS LOOK FOR BALANCE IN 2006.

For the Terrapin women's lacrosse team in 2006, it's all about balance. The team is not all about athleticism or speed, offense or defense. This year's group is about combining all of the various skills and phases of the game, and melding that with hard work and team chemistry to help Maryland pursue its goals.

"This team really enjoys each other and working together," says head coach Cindy Timchal, the winningest coach in women's lacrosse history. "We have a good mix of players with tremendous talents, and it's up to myself and the coaches to put the players in position to succeed."

Most of the experience on the team returns on the midfield and attack, headlined by All-American Delia Cox. Cox has started every game Maryland has played in her three years, and she will be counted on for leadership as well as her offensive punch. Another senior, Brooke Richards, is coming off a big offensive season and will captain the team along with Cox. In the midfield, a trio will continue their progression as elite players as junior Katie Doolittle and sophomores Kelly Kasper and Casey Magor benefit from significant playing time and impact in 2005. On defense, the Terps graduated All-American Greta Sommers, and will count on juniors Becky Clipp and Martha Raver to shut down the opponent's offense.

"I think, in general, we are a young team," Timchal says. "We have to see how this group responds to the tough situations we are bound to face when you play a schedule like ours. We are excited about those challenges and we will be prepared, and the girls are excited to get the season started."

ATTACK

For the Terps, balance starts on the offense. For a team that had six players tally over 40 points in 2005, this year's edition could be even more versatile.

"I'm very excited about the group we have on offense," Timchal says. "We have so many talented players that can put the ball in the net that it will be tough to stop. The key for us is our passing and to make sure we get the best possible shot. I'm not concerned about who's taking the shots, because I think we have plenty of great finishers who are able to do the job."

Controlling the offense from behind the cage will be Brooke Richards. Richards registered career-highs in goals (21), assists (21) and points (42) a season ago. An excellent feeder, Richards also has one of the strongest shots on the team, making her a top threat offensively.

Junior Krista Pellizzi missed fall action, but will see plenty of playing time in 2006. Pellizzi can run the offense from the top of the arc as well as attack the cage. Sophomore Katie Princiotto moved back to the offensive end after playing defense last season, and has proven to be one of the team's top finishers. Junior Mollie Reese is a poised and experienced attacker who combines a great ability to pass the ball ir addition to her top-flight stick skills. This group, along with several midfielders whc will jump in the offensive zone, give the Terps an offense that can compete witl the best in the nation.

MIDFIELD

The Terp midfield is rich with talented players that can make plays all over the field. Delia Cox, a two-time All-America selection by Inside Lacrosse, will continue to draw attention from opposing defenses. Cox led all Terps with 35 goals las season.

"Defenses are going to keep trying to find ways to stop Delia," Timchal says "She has some experience dealing with that over the past few years, and she ha: been very focused in the offseason adjusting to that. She has been very diligen about trying to stay a step ahead of what she'll see, as well as working on makin the extra pass."

Junior Katie Doolittle, the team's fastest player, had a breakout year in 200: pouring in 33 goals and nine assists in 19 starts for the Terps. Despite being secon on the team last year in goals, Doolittle has continued to work on her finishing and with her speed, will have a key role on defense as well.

Sophomore Kelly Kasper showed steady improvement throughout her freshma season, and will continue to build off that momentum in 2006. Kasper was one c Maryland's most dangerous scorers at the end of the season last year, and he competitive attitude helps make her a tough defender.

"Kelly has great intensity and passion," Timchal says. "She learned a lot in he first season, and she has a great appreciation for playing and has been workin hard to have an even bigger impact than she did last season."

FEAR THE TURTLE
2006 MARYLAND WOMEN'S LACROSSE

Casey Magor, who helped Australia to the 2005 World Cup in Annapolis, will take most of the draws for the Terps. Magor has great fundamental skills and is a key in transition for the Terps. Meghan Higgins will also see time in the midfield as well as being on the draw for Maryland.

A pair of freshmen, Kate McWilliams and Jenny Collins, are pushing for time in the midfield. McWilliams has good attacking skills and Collins is a versatile athlete who could also be used on defense.

"I think we have what a midfield should have: high skill level, speed and a commitment to playing the entire field," Timchal says. "Those players expect a lot out of themselves and are eager to prove something."

DEFENSE

The youngest part of the team will be on the defensive side, where the Terps return just two players who are line defenders: Becky Clipp and Martha Raver.

"We are definitely going to count on Becky and Martha for a lot of minutes, leadership and big plays on the defensive end," Timchal says.

Clipp led the team in groundballs last season and was second in caused turnovers. Raver's speed allows her to match up against quick offensive players, which helps stymie opposing offenses. Katie Pumphrey emerged as a solid defensive player last year as a freshman, but will be out of the lineup in the early part of the year with a knee injury.

What the Terps lack in experience, they make up for in athletic ability. Sophomores Lauren Cohen and Jen Greenberg bring their dynamic talents to the defensive side of the ball, and freshman Jenny Collins could also see time on defense as well.

In the cage for the Terps will be sophomore Allie Buote. Buote played in eight games last season as a freshman and benefited from being behind Kirah Miles for a season.

"Allie has a good presence in the cage," Timchal says. "She is poised and talented, and has the ability to make game-changing saves. The coaching staff and the team have a lot of confidence in her."

Backing up Buote will be a pair of newcomers in Lynne Cooper and Sarah Sommaripa.

New to the women's lacrosse game in 2006 are hard boundaries. This rule will put a premium on stick work and add a wrinkle to a team's philosophy on defending.

"The new rule will change the game a bit, but I think it makes it a better and more exciting game," Timchal says. "There are going to be changes on how we clear the ball and how we pressure the ball, which adds a new dynamic."

SCHEDULE

As always, the Terps will face a schedule that rivals any team's in the country. Maryland's strength of schedule in 2005 was fifth in the NCAA, and with a slate that includes 10 of the 16 teams that qualified for last year's NCAA Tournament (including all teams from the Final Four), the Terps will be tested throughout the year. However, Maryland will have the benefit of playing 11 of its 17 regular season games in College Park, not counting the ACC Tournament which will once again be played at M&T Bank Stadium in Baltimore.

"We're going to be tested, there's no question about that," Timchal says. "But all of those tough games are great opportunities for us as a team. We just have to work hard and prepare so that we can put ourselves in a position to be successful."

The Terps start out of the gate with the defending NCAA champions Northwestern Wildcats, who are coached by alum Kelly Amonte Hiller. After a pair of home contests against Ohio and George Mason, Maryland will face its first road test against defending ACC champion Duke.

Maryland returns to College Park for games against Richmond and Virginia before a non-conference matchup against Brown in Providence, R.I. The Terps then will be home for six straight games, highlighted by the annual ACC/Big 10 Challenge.

Before the ACC Tournament starts at the end of April, Maryland will have its longest road stretch of the season as it plays at Johns Hopkins, North Carolina and ACC newcomer Boston College. The Terps will conclude the regular season on the road at Princeton.

The NCAA Tournament Final Four will be played in Boston on the weekend of May 26-28.

"We have an exciting home schedule for fans to see," Timchal says. "Hopefully we can build some confidence at home that will help us face the challenges we meet on the road and in the postseason."

Head Coach Cindy Timchal

16TH SEASON AT MARYLAND • WEST CHESTER '76

If excellence is a measure of accomplishment, her eight titles at Maryland speak volumes.

If excellence is a measure of character, the lives she touches and the student-athletes she molds represent an immeasurable impact on the people around her.

If excellence is a way to describe those who are admired by their athletes, revered by their peers, and respected by their community, then Maryland head women's lacrosse coach Cindy Timchal celebrates nothing less than 15 years of excellence at the University of Maryland.

When Timchal arrived in College Park, the Maryland women's lacrosse program stood at a 201-69-3 (a .736 winning percentage) all-time. Under Timchal's guidance, the Terps have taken what was already a strong program and elevated it to one that has since notched an astounding record of 248-38 (.867), turning Maryland into the winningest Division I women's lacrosse team ever. The Terps are now 449-107-3 (.806) in 32 years of lacrosse.

Last season, she again guided the team to the NCAA Tournament and produced three All-Americans. The Terrapins produced a winning season for the 29th-straight year and won more than 10 games for the 15th-consecutive season. Even more telling of her impact on the game was the fact that half of the NCAA Tournament field were coached by University of Maryland alums.

In 2004, Timchal became the first head coach in the sport's history to reach the 300-win mark. Heading into the 2006 season, no other coach in the sport has more wins(324) than the Maryland mentor.

Beyond the numbers, though, Timchal has done her part to revolutionize the sport of women's lacrosse. In recent years, Timchal has brought some of the most influential names in lacrosse through College Park, including former assistant Gary Gait, and more recently former Terp stars Cathy Nelson and Jen Adams. In addition, Maryland players are a fixture on national teams and in the collegiate coaching ranks, demonstrating the breadth of Timchal's influence. Eleven years ago, she added another dimension to the learning process at Maryland as she brought aboard the wisdom of California-based team consultant and author Dr. Jerry Lynch to enrich the minds of her student-athletes. That decision has complemented the already high level of physical training it takes to excel at the Division I level and is a trend that has caught on throughout the world of sports.

From Kelly Amonte to Cathy Nelson, Alex Kahoe to Alexis Venechanos, Jen Adams to Kelly Coppedge, the one constant in all of the great Maryland players has been Cindy Timchal.

In only four seasons since her arrival in College Park has Timchal lost more than three games in any one season, highlighted by the spectacular undefeated seasons of 1996 (19-0), 1999 (21-0) and 2001 (23-0). She has taken her Terrapin teams to the NCAA finals in 11 of the past 16 years, at one point winning an unprecedented seven-straight national titles.

In winning their seventh-straight national title under Timchal's watch, the Terps posted what currently stands as the third-longest championship streak in women's NCAA history. In addition, it puts Timchal in the company of coaching legends like UCLA's John Wooden who won seven straight titles with the UCLA men's basketball program from 1967-73.

Timchal's coaching career got its start at Northwestern in 1982. During her nine-year tenure with the Wildcats, she compiled a 76-40 record (.655) and took her team to five NCAA appearances. While at Northwestern, Timchal made it as far as the quarterfinals, earning appearances in the NCAA Tournament in 1984, '86, '87, and '88. In 1991, she came to the College Park to continue the already long-standing tradition of Terrapin lacrosse.

Prior to '91, the Terrapins' last title had come in 1986 under head coach Sue Tyler, but the Maryland dynasty began to re-emerge almost immediately under Timchal's guidance. Timchal's first year saw a 14-3 record and a trip to the NCAA finals. By 1992, the lacrosse world knew something big was about to happen at Maryland. Despite being at a place with a rich history in both men's and wome lacrosse, few could have predicted that a dynasty so powerful was on the horiz With a 14-1 record, the Terrapins took the 1992 national title — just the third Maryland school history.

The 1993 season would bring a heartbreaking 7-6 loss to the Princeton Tiger the NCAA semifinals. The following year led to further frustration with the Tigers, a 10-7 decision left the Terrapins just one win away from hoisting the trophy again 1995, however, Timchal and the Terps would turn the tables on the competitio

After the three-goal loss to Princeton in 1994, the Terps would go on to win straight games. Timchal led the 1995 squad to a 17-0 run ending in a 13-5 defea Princeton for the NCAA title. Maryland would go undefeated again in 1996, finish with a 19-0 record and a 10-5 decision over ACC rival Virginia to take home t hardware.

The 1997 season would begin with Timchal's squad wearing the label of back-back NCAA champions, and the Terps were able to again dominate the competiti Maryland posted a 21-1 record and was just one goal short of putting together third consecutive undefeated season.

FEAR THE TURTLE
2006 MARYLAND WOMEN'S LACROSSE

The dynasty continued throughout the 1998 season despite an 0-2 start following losses to Duke and North Carolina. That season finished the same way as the previous three, however, with Timchal's Terrapins being crowned the NCAA champions once again, this time behind an 11-5 win over Virginia.

In 1999, the Terrapins were no less than the personification of a finely-tuned program from top to bottom. Timchal led Maryland to a 21-0 season, the team's fifth-straight title. The 2000 season saw Maryland stumble momentarily out of the gate with an overtime loss at North Carolina, but the "machine" could not be stopped as the Terps went on to win their final 20 en route to their sixth title in a row.

The 2001 season may have been Timchal's finest of all her seasons as a head coach. The Terrapins played one of — if not the – toughest schedule in women's lacrosse and were every team's target as the one to beat. Despite the attention, the Terps again ran through the schedule without a blemish and ultimately beat Georgetown in a gut-wrenching title game to finish 23-0. The 23 wins are most ever by a team in a single season.

Now looking to start a new streak of championships, Timchal will enter 2006 with some of the most impressive coaching numbers already under her belt. Her .806 career winning percentage places her seventh on the list of all-time women's lacrosse coaches.

Individually, her athletes have earned countless accolades and awards. Maryland has had 21 first team All-Americans in the last eight years, and 13 players have earned national offensive, defensive or goalkeeper of the year awards. Jen Adams became the first-ever winner of the Tewaaraton Trophy, which recognizes the top collegiate men's and women's player in the country, and Kelly Coppedge was a finalist in each of the past two seasons. In 1996, Kelly Amonte became the Terps' first four-time All-American, including first-team honors in 1995 and 1996.

A total of 40 different Terrapins have earned All-America recognition 73 times under Timchal including Kelly Amonte's four, (1993-96), and three each for Betsy Elder (1992-94), Sarah Forbes (1995-97), Laura Harmon (1993-95), Sascha Newmarch (1996-98), Jen Adams (1999-2001) and Kelly Coppedge (2002-04). In 2005, Acacia Walker earned first team honors, Greta Sommers was named to the second team and Annie Collines was named third team All-America. Adams' third-consecutive selection as Player of the Year in 2000 marked the 10th time one of Timchal's players have earned National Player of the Year honors, including Amonte, who was named the 1996 NCAA Division I Most Valuable Player. Nationally, 18 of Timchal's players have played on the U.S. Developmental team and five were members of the most recent championship U.S. World Cup team. Seven former Terrapins helped lead Australia to the 2005 World Cup title in Annapolis, including tournament MVP Sarah Forbes. All totaled, 13 Terps represented three countries at the World Cup.

Timchal not only produces champions on the field, but also in the classroom. Two seasons ago, Julie Shank was named Scholar Athlete of the Year. Jen Adams was named GTE/CoSida Academic All-American of the Year (2000). In 1998, Sascha Newmarch earned GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-American. Betsy Elder was a two-time Academic All-American in 1993-94, while Theresa Ingram and Jamie Brodsky earned honors in 1994 and 1996, respectively.

As impressive as the honors under Timchal are, the most telling of all her accomplishments as a coach may be what has become of some of her former players. Timchal has created a legacy of creating coaches indirectly through her coaching. Among the former players who have gone on to coach at the collegiate level are, Kelly Amonte-Hiller (1996 grad; current head coach at Northwestern), Allison Comito (2002 grad; Stony Brook interim head coach); Missy Holmes (1997 grad; current Towson head coach), Kerstin Kimel (1993 grad; current head coach at Duke), Courtney Martinez Conner (2001 grad; current UMBC head coach), Karen McCrate (1996 grad; coach of 2001 NCAA D-II Champion C.W. Post), Cathy Nelson (1998 grad; current Denver head coach), Tami Riley (1996 grad; Virginia Tech head coach), Michelle Uhlfelder (1991 grad; current Stanford head coach), Jennifer Uhlela (1991 grad; current Temple coach). Timchal also mentored Dartmouth head coach Amy Patton at Unionville (Pa.) High School and has several former players serving as assistants at other schools including Jen Adams (Denver), Cara Gorman (Vermont), Sonia Judd (Denver), Meg McNamara (Stony Brook), Alex Kahoe (Delaware), Alexis Venechanos (Northwestern) and Acacia Walker (Northwestern).

Timchal attended West Chester (Pa.) University where she lettered in lacrosse, tennis and track & field. Following her graduation, she became an assistant coach at Unionville (Pa.) High School where she coached field hockey, lacrosse and basketball. In February 2004, she was inducted into the school's hall of fame. In 1979, she joined the collegiate ranks, becoming an assistant lacrosse and field hockey coach at the University of Pennsylvania.

Assistant Coach Caitlin Banks

FIRST SEASON AT MARYLAND • VIRGINIA '04

Former University of Virginia standout Caitlin Banks is in her first season as an assistant women's lacrosse coach at the University of Maryland. Banks spent last season as a volunteer assistant at Georgetown, assisting in game day preparation, scouting reports and individual skill development.

Last season the Hoyas went 13-5 and advanced to the NCAA Quarterfinals. Banks will be involved in all coaching aspects of the program as well as recruiting and administrative tasks.

"I am truly excited to come to College Park," Banks said upon her hiring. "I look forward to working with such a talented and motivated group of student-athletes, a head coach that I have always respected and admired, and the Terp family."

"We are very fortunate to have Caitlin on our staff," Timchal says of Banks. "She has a great knowledge and understanding of the game that will be of extreme value to myself and the players."

As a player at Virginia, Banks was a member of the Cavaliers' national championship team in 2004. That season she earned All-America honors and was named to the NCAA and ACC All-Tournament teams, in addition to being an All-ACC selection. The 2001 ACC Rookie of the Year also earned NCAA All-Tournament honors in 2003 when the Cavaliers lost to Princeton in the finals. She ranks third all-time at Virginia in draw controls, fourth in career assists and 11th in points.

A native of Setauket, N.Y., Banks earned her degree from Virginia in 2004.

Assistant Coach Brian McGurn

FIRST SEASON AT MARYLAND • GETTYSBURG '95

Brian McGurn, an accomplished player and coach, begins his first season in College Park as an assistant on Cindy Timchal's staff.

McGurn comes to Maryland after spending the last two years directing camps and clinics year-round for players of various ages in the Atlanta area.

"I am very excited for the opportunity to coach at such a prestigious program with so much history," McGurn says of the opportunity to work with the Terrapins. "I'm looking forward to helping the team continue to compete at the highest level of collegiate women's lacrosse."

"Brian is an excellent addition to our staff," Timchal says. "He has an excellent mind for the game and brings energy and enthusiasm to the program. We will utilize his wide breadth of knowledge to help our team improve every day."

Prior to his stint in Atlanta, McGurn spent two seasons as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Gettysburg College. As defensive coordinator, he helped the Bullets to the 2002 national championship game. That season, Gettysburg was fourth in the country in goals-against average.

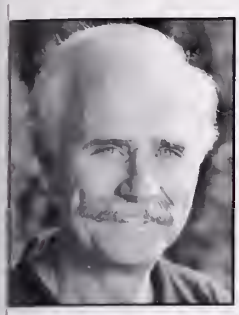
McGurn began his coaching career as an assistant at Lynchburg College. After two seasons there, he went on to be the defensive coordinator for three seasons at Franklin and Marshall College. He was apart of a staff that helped rebuild the Diplomat program and lead the team a 9-6 record in 2001 - its first winning season since 1996.

As a player, McGurn was a Division III first team All-America defenseman in 1995 after earning honorable mention recognition in 1994. He was a three-time all-conference selection and was team captain as a senior. In 2001, he was invited to try out for the 2002 U.S. World Team.

A native of Northbrook, Ill., McGurn earned his degree in history from Gettysburg in 1995. He is currently completing his master's degree in educational leadership from Lynchburg College.

Team Consultant Dr. Jerry Lynch

11TH SEASON AT MARYLAND • ST. FRANCIS



Dr. Jerry Lynch is entering his 11th season as a spiritual advisor for the Maryland women's lacrosse team. He has over 20 years of experience who has worked with clients in the PGA, NFL and NBA, as well as numerous collegiate teams, many of which have either advance to the NCAA Final Four or have won NCAA titles.

Lynch runs the TaoSportsCenter for Athletic Development which is based in Santa Cruz, Calif. He has published seven books and has had 75 articles published. One of his more recent books, Creative Coaching, deals with teaching athletes the skills, strategies, and discipline to help them succeed; while also helping to guide, encourage, respect, and inspire athletes.

After earning his bachelor's degree in English from St. Francis College, Lynch earned his master's degree in psychology from Penn State and his Ph.D. in psychology from the University of Pennsylvania. In addition, he earned a Ph.D. in comparative religions from the American College of Theology and a master's degree in family and child counseling from California.

Volunteer Assistant Liam Banks

FIRST SEASON AT MARYLAND • SYRACUSE '03

Liam Banks, a two-time All-American for the Syracuse Orange, is in his first season as a volunteer assistant for the women's lacrosse program. Banks is the brother of Terrapin assistant, Caitlin.

Banks currently plays professionally for the New Jersey Pride. He also runs LB3 Lacrosse Camps in eastern Pennsylvania, which focuses on skill development for players of all ages.

As a player, Banks led Syracuse to four Final Four appearances and was the NCAA Tournament MVP in helping the Orange to the title in 2000.

He was a member of the U.S. U-19 World Team and was recognized as All-World for his performance at that tournament in 1999.

Banks and his wife, Renee, reside in Pennsylvania with their two year old daughter Ryann.

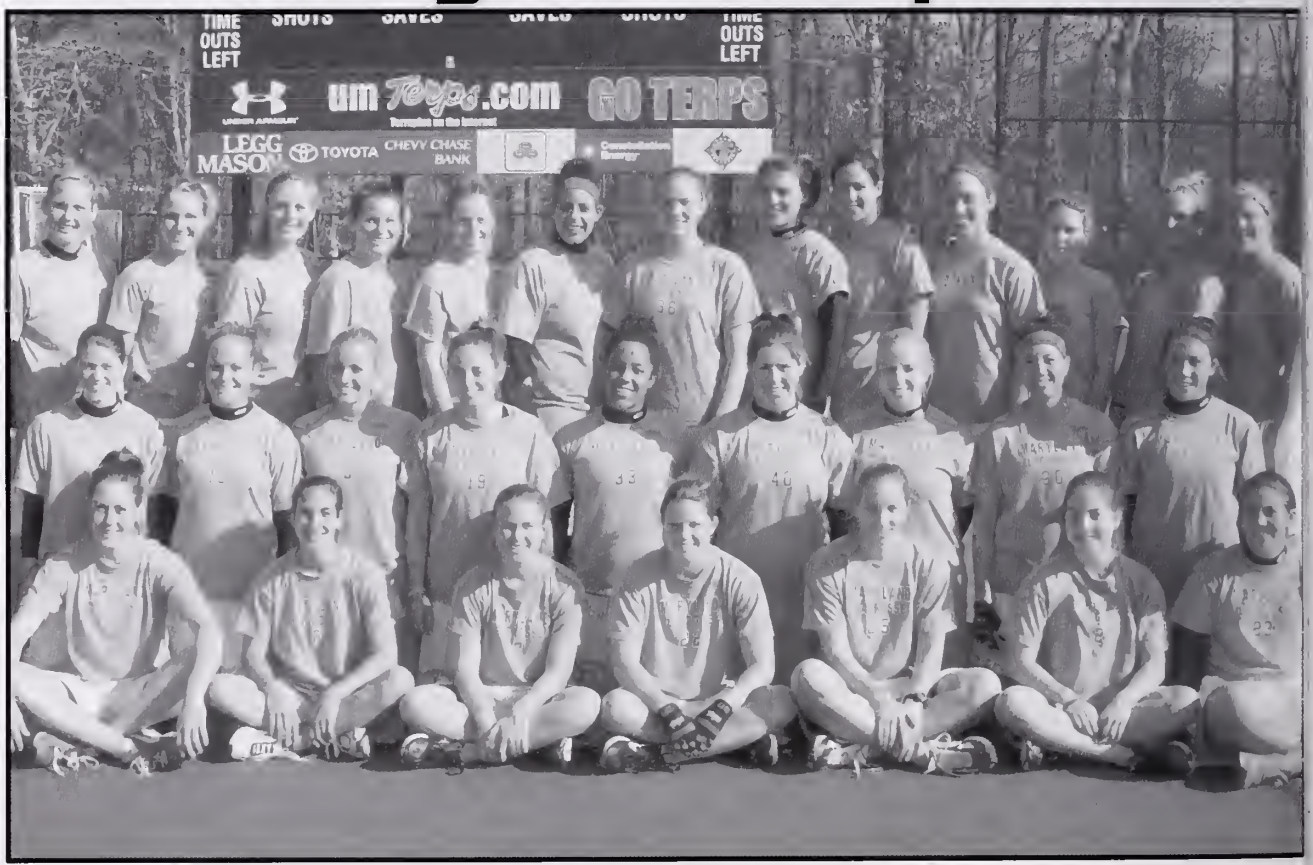
2006 Maryland Terrapins



2005 Review Notebook

TERPS ADVANCE TO NCAA TOURNAMENT FOR 16TH STRAIGHT YEAR.

• The Terrapins finished the season with a 12-7 record and advanced to the NCAA Tournament. It was Maryland's 16th-straight appearance in the NCAA Tournament. Eighth-seeded Princeton eliminated the Terps, 16-8, in Princeton, N.J., in the first round.

• The Terps finished third in the newly expanded ACC with a 2-2 record. Maryland lost in the semifinals of the ACC Tournament to Virginia at M&T Bank Stadium in Baltimore, Md.

• Maryland won at least 10 games for the 16th-straight year, and for the 28th time in the last 29 years.

• Twelve of Maryland's 19 opponents were ranked at the time the teams played. The Terps were 5-7 in those games, with all of the losses coming against teams ranked in the top 10.

• The Terps posted a 6-1 record in College Park.

• Three Maryland women's lacrosse players were named to the IWLCA/US Lacrosse All-America teams, including first team selection Acacia Walker. Greta Sommers was named to the second team and Annie Collins was named a third team All-American. Walker and Sommers were also named All-Americans by Inside Lacrosse. Walker, who missed games down the stretch due to injury, finished her career eighth all-time for assists (77).

• Four Maryland Terrapins were named to the 2005 All-ACC team. Annie Collins, Delia Cox, Greta Sommers and Acacia Walker were all named to the 16-member team. Each were repeat All-ACC selections from 2004.

• Three players earned ACC Player of the Week honors throughout the 2005 season: Annie Collins, Delia Cox and Greta Sommers each earned the honor once. Cox was named the ACC and Inside Lacrosse Women's Lacrosse Player of the Week on April 18 for leading the Terps to a 14-7 win over No. 6 North Carolina in Chapel Hill, N.C. The midfielder scored four goals and registered one assist as ninth-ranked Maryland downed the Tar Heels. The Newbury, Mass., native also recorded three ground balls and one draw control as well as a season-high five points.

• Kelly Kasper was named to the ACC All-Tournament team after her three-goal, one-assist performance against the Cavaliers.

• Maryland's offense was marked by remarkable balance in 2005 with seven players scoring at least 38 points. Jessica Dorney led the team with 45 points on 28 goals and 17 assists. Annie Collins led the team with 23 assists and Delia Cox paced the team in goals with 35. Six different Maryland players registered game-winning goals in 2005.

• After not scoring in the first game, Delia Cox scored a goal in the last 18 games for Maryland. Katie Doolittle ended the season with a 16-game scoring streak.

• Seven players started all 19 games for Maryland in 2005: Katie Doolittle, Brooke Richards, Delia Cox, Greta Sommers, Kirah Miles and Megan Sommar.

• Katie Doolittle and Brooke Richards were the only Terps to set career highs in all three offensive categories (goals, assists and points).

• The season high for points was seven by Annie Collins (vs. Syracuse) and Acacia Walker (vs. Brown). The season high for goals in a game was five by three players: Collins, Walker and Katie Doolittle. The season high for assists in a game was four by Collins.

• Opponents converted only a third of their free-position shots against the Terrapins (33-91).

• Kirah Miles allowed just over nine goals a game as a starter at goalie. She made 161 saves on the year -- just seven shy of her total last year in one less game. She saved a season-high 15 shots against Ohio State.

• Maryland won both of its games that went to overtime last year. The Terps knocked off George Mason, 10-9, on a Kelly Kasper goal in the third sudden-death period. The Terrapins also defeated Princeton, 13-12, in what was one of the best women's lacrosse games of the year. In that game, Brooke Richards scored in the second sudden-death period to pull out the victory at Ludwig Field.

• Five Maryland alums led their respective programs into the NCAA Tournament as head coaches. Kelly Amonte-Hiller of Northwestern, Towson's Missy Holmes, Kerstin Kimmel of Duke, Courtney Martinez-Conner of Mount St. Mary's and Dartmouth's Amy Patton each guided their teams into the field of 16. Amonte-Hiller led her team to the NCAA title.

• Terp seniors Kate Capelle, Annie Collins, Jessica Dorney, Michelle McKenna, Kirah Miles, Meredith O'Brien, Megan Sommar, Greta Sommers and Acacia Walker finished their Terrapin careers against Princeton in the NCAA Tournament.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. -- Fourth-ranked Duke raced out to a 7-1 first half lead and withstood a second half rally by No. 7 Maryland to defeat the Terps, 10-7, Saturday afternoon in College Park. Annie Collins led Maryland with two goals and one assist, while Katie Doolittle and Jessica Dorney added a goal and an assist apiece.

The Blue Devils jumped on Maryland early with goals from Kristy Dirks and Kristen Waagbo in the first two minutes of action. Maryland's Brooke Richards scored for the Terps on an assist from Doolittle at 25:24, but Duke closed out the first half with five straight goals from five different Blue Devils. Maryland was out-shot 23-11 in the first half as it took a 7-1 lead into the second half. Duke goalie Megan Huether's six first half saves helped limit the Terps to one goal.

The Terps rallied back, though, scoring five unanswered goals in the first 10 minutes of the second half to cut Duke's lead to 7-6. Collins helped the Terps with two goals and an assist in that run, and Doolittle, Kelly Kasper and Greta Sommers also added goals for Maryland.

Duke's Katie Chrest ended the Blue Devils scoring drought, finding the back of the net at 14:52 on an assist from Leigh Jester. The two teams traded opportunities for the next nine minutes, but the Blue Devils were able to push its advantage to three goals after Jessica Adam's goal with just over five minutes remaining.

Jessica Dorney scored a free-position goal at 2:56 to make the score 9-7, but Duke was able to win the ensuing draw and melt the clock until Chrest tacked on a late goal to seal the victory. Chrest led all players with four points on three goals and one assist.

For the game, the Terps were just 2-of-7 on free-position shots. Kirah Miles stopped nine shots for Maryland. Duke's Huether made seven saves on the game.

NORFOLK, Va. -- Facing a 2-1 halftime deficit, Maryland roared back scoring five goals in the first four minutes of the second half on its way to a 13-6 win over Old Dominion Wednesday afternoon at Foreman Field. Acacia Walker scored a career-high five goals, including three in the first five minutes of the second half to help lead the Terps to victory.

For the second straight game, Maryland (1-1) fell behind early and went into halftime facing a deficit. Walker helped ignite the Terps' second half run along with freshman Kelly Kasper. Walker went for five goals in the second half, including three in the first five minutes of Maryland's key second half run. Kelly Kasper also had a goal and an assist during that stretch.

Kelly Kimener helped Old Dominion cut into Maryland's lead with an unassisted goal at 24:53. The Terps responded with another 5-0 run over the next six minutes to put the game away. Kasper netted a pair, and Walker, Cox and Dorney each tallied goals to stretch Maryland's lead to 11-3.

The Lady Monarchs mounted a run towards the end of the game with goals by Kristen Traux, Kimener and Katie Veneziale, but it wasn't enough. Kasper and Walker tacked on late goals for the Terps to seal the victory.

Kirah Miles worked 46 minutes, allowing just three goals and making four saves for the Terps. Kate Capelle spent 14 minutes in the cage, stopping two shots.

Kasper finished the game with five points on four goals and one assist. She also led Maryland with five ground balls and five caused turnovers.

RICHMOND, Va. -- Kirah Miles stopped 14 shots and Maryland poured in 10 first half goals as the Terps downed Richmond, 14-6, Thursday afternoon at First Bank Stadium. Delia Cox and Acacia Walker each scored a hat trick, and Brooke Richards led all scorers with four points on two goals and two assists.

Richmond won the opening draw and controlled the ball for nearly two minutes before firing a shot that was saved by Miles. Walker quickly converted on the other end for the Terps for the early lead. The Spiders won the ensuing draw, but another Miles save started the Maryland offense. Cox put Maryland up 2-0 after converting on a free-position shot at 22:09.

After an Ashley Friend free-position goal at 17:14, it was all Terps the rest of the first half as Maryland won 10 of the next 11 draw controls and went on a 6-0 run over the next 11 minutes to take command of the game. Annie Collins contributed two goals in the run, and Kelly Kasper, Jessica Dorney, Richards and Cox added scores for the Terps during that stretch.

Allison Nuzzi tallied a goal and Kristen Habicht scored on a strong shot from the top of the 8-meter arc to cut the deficit to 8-3, but Maryland scores by Walker and Cox pushed Maryland's advantage to seven goals.

The Terps didn't let up in the second half, scoring three straight in the first 16 minutes as Walker, Richards and Krista Pellizzi each found the back of the net. Miles made five saves before Richmond was able to go on a late 3-0 run. Morgan Vahue scored unassisted at 13:38, followed by a goal by Caroline McGuire at 6:19 and a score by Habicht just over a minute later.

Meghan Higgins controlled the next draw for Maryland and Pellizzi promptly ended Richmond's run at 4:37. The two teams traded possessions over the next four minutes as time expired.

#1 Virginia 15

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. -- Top-ranked Virginia used a 7-1 run over the last 12 minutes of the first half to down No. 7 Maryland, 15-8, on a cold and windy night in Charlottesville, Va. Jessica Dorney paced the Terps with three goals and one assist in the losing effort.

Virginia's Cary Chasney broke the scoreless tie at 18:53 on a free-position goal. The Terps responded just over a minute later as Brooke Richards worked behind the cage and found Dorney cutting to the net for the score at 17:35.

Still tied 1-1 with 12:45 on the clock, the Cavs broke the game open with six goals over the next nine minutes to pull away from the Terps. Leachman and Appelt each had a pair of goals during that stretch, and Nikki Lieb and Chasney also chipped in goals.

Acacia Walker stopped the UVa run at the 3:00-mark after connecting on a pass from Annie Collins. Appelt gave the Cavaliers an 8-2 advantage going into halftime after an unassisted goal at 2:26.

Despite the eight goals, Kirah Miles held up well in goal making eight saves over the first 30 minutes.

Virginia continued to stretch its lead in the second half scoring five goals in the first 10 minutes. Dorney added a score for Maryland in that run after Walker drew a double team and dished it to her in front of the net.

Trailing 13-3, the Terps mounted a run late in the game. Maryland went on a 3-0 run from 11:22-8:53 on goals from Lauren Cohen, Dorney and Kelly Kasper. The Cavs ended Maryland's bid for a comeback, though, notching a pair of goals just 25 seconds apart with just over five minutes left in the game for a 15-6 lead. Cohen added a score and Delia Cox found the back of the net to close out the scoring in the game.

Virginia dominated possession, winning 16-of-25 draws. Turnovers again plagued the Terps, giving up 18 in the game. The 'Hoos were responsible for causing half of those.

Brown 7
#7 Maryland 20

COLLEGE PARK, Md. -- Seventh-ranked Maryland poured in 14 second half goals on its way to a 20-7 victory over Brown Saturday afternoon at the Lacrosse/Field Hockey Complex. Acacia Walker scored a career-high seven points on five goals and two assists while Delia Cox tallied four goals and Brooke Richards had two goals and two assists in the victory.

The Terps jumped on the Bears early, scoring twice in the game's opening 1:30 on Jessica Dorney's behind-the-back goal and Cox's score off the ensuing draw control. Walker put the Terps in front 3-0, but Brown stayed in the game mounting a 4-2 run over the game's next 22 minutes.

After the Bears' Sarah Passano made the score 5-4 with just over a minute left in the first half, Brown won the following draw control but turned it over in its offensive zone with 37 seconds remaining. Walker scooped up the ground ball starting the Maryland break, and Mollie Reese connected on a pass to Richards to give Maryland a 6-4 lead heading into the half.

The Terps broke the game open early in the second half scoring eight unanswered goals in the half's opening 11 minutes. Cox accounted for three goals and Walker had two in the Terp run, and Meredith O'Brien and Krista Pellizzi each converted on free-position shots while Katie Doolittle finished on a feed from Becky Clipp.

Brown finally got on the board in the second half at the 13:34 mark when Jen Redd converted a free-position for the Bears. The Terps did not let up, though, going on a 6-0 run in the game's next 11 minutes. Lauren Cohen helped key that run with a pair of scores.

Kirah Miles stopped five shots in goal before giving way to Kate Capelle and Allie Buote. Capelle played six minutes stopping three shots, while Buote stopped three shots in just two minutes of action.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. -- Brooke Richards scored a career-high six points as Maryland defeated Denver 15-3 Monday afternoon at the Lacrosse/Field Hockey Complex. Kirah Miles helped keep the Pioneers scoreless throughout most of the game with six saves and Jessica Dorney added a hat trick to contribute to the Terp offense.

The two teams traded possessions for the first 12 minutes without a score before Maryland finally got on the board on an unassisted Delia Cox goal at 18:17.

Maryland seized the momentum winning the following draw and racing down the field for Richards' first goal of the afternoon on an assist from Krista Pellizzi to go up 2-0. Richards then factored in on Maryland's third goal forcing a Denver turnover and then connecting on a pass to Acacia Walker for her 15th goal of the season. The Terps again pounced quickly scoring just nine seconds later after Walker won the draw and Richards finished for the score.

The two teams went nearly 10 minutes without a goal before Katie Doolittle found the back of the net at 4:27. After another Richards goal, Annie Collins tacked on a free-position goal at 3:01 to give Maryland a 7-0 hafltime advantage.

The Terps didn't let up in the second half, scoring six more unanswered including two from Dorney. Kate Broderick got Denver on the board on a free-position goal, but Dorney worked around 8-meter arc and scored on a tough angle over three minutes later. The Pioneers Crystal Jack answered by finishing on a pass from Victoria Baines. Pellizzi found Lauren Cohen for Maryland's final score of the day, and Jack's free-position goal with 44 seconds left was Denver's final goal.

Defensively, the Terps forced 15 of Denver's 25 turnovers, led by Greta Sommers, Megan Sommar and Katie Princiotto (two caused turnovers each). Miles stopped all six shots she faced -- including two free-position attempts.

FAIRFAX, Va. -- Freshman Kelly Kasper scored off her own rebound in the fifth overtime period capping a furious Maryland rally to defeat George Mason, 10-9, Wednesday night. The Terps trailed 7-3 at halftime, but scored six goals in four minutes to climb back into the game. The Maryland defense held the Patriots to just two goals over the game's final 42 minutes to help secure the victory.

The Terps actually got out to a quick start, with Jessica Dorney tallying a goal just 16 seconds into the game. Acacia Walker put Maryland up 2-0 at 23:45, but George Mason closed the half on a 7-1 run. Tracy Watterson helped key the Patriot run with two goals and two assists.

Maryland climbed back into the game quickly in the second half with six straight goals in a span of 3:12. The Terps did not relinquish possession during that span as Casey Magor helped Maryland win seven straight draws. Katie Doolittle and Brooke Richards each netted a pair during that run, and Magor and Delia Cox also found the net as the Terps held a 9-7 lead with 26 minutes left.

Kristy Manas knotted the score at 9-9 with just 1:20 left in the game to send the game into overtime. After scoreless three minute periods, the game went to sudden victory overtime.

Annie Collins won the draw in the fifth overtime to start the Maryland possession. Kasper broke free in front of the net and got a shot off just outside the crease, but it was stopped by Dentler. The ball came back to Kasper and she scooped it up and put the ball in the net for the game-winner before Dentler could get back into position.

HANOVER, N.H. -- Seventh-ranked Dartmouth held off a late Maryland rally to hold on for a 10-8 win Saturday afternoon at Sculley-Fahey Field. Delia Cox paced the Maryland offense with four goals.

The Terps started off the game strong as Jessica Dorney put Maryland up early after scoring on a re-start just outside the 8-meter arc at 27:27. The Big Green countered to tie the score on a goal by Sarah Sanborn.

Maryland then rattled off three straight scores in just 2:45 on two Cox goals and a score by Annie Collins.

The Big Green mounted a rally late in the first half to get back into the game. Jen Pittman, Whitney Douthett, Leibovitz and Sarah Szefi scored unanswered goals in the last seven minutes of the half to give Dartmouth a 5-4 lead.

The Terp offense could still not get on track in the second half as the Big Green continued to capitalize on its offensive possessions. Kirah Miles helped keep Dartmouth off the board in the 10 minutes of the second half, but the Big Green went on to score five of the game's next six goals to take command of the game, 10-5. Maryland's Delia Cox sandwiched a goal amid Dartmouth's run, ending Maryland's 34-minute scoring drought.

Trailing 10-5 with just over seven minutes left, Cox again knifed through a double team to get to the cage for a score. Annie Collins scored on a tough angle on the right-side of the net to cut the deficit to three with 6:06 remaining. On a re-start after a Dartmouth turnover, Brooke Richards found Katie Doolittle who finished for the goal at 3:50.

Miles made 12 saves in the game, while Wills stopped seven Maryland shots.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. -- Second-ranked Penn State outscored No. 11 Maryland 7-2 in the second half to overcome a 10-6 halftime deficit to win 13-12, Friday night at Navy Marine-Corps Stadium. Lori Havrilla led the Nittany Lions with six goals on the night, while Maryland's Acacia Walker countered with four goals and one assist in the losing effort.

The Terps were extremely disciplined on offense in the first half, scoring 10 goals on just 19 shots. Maryland also dominated the play in the midfield to help control possession throughout the first half. Walker was dominant in the first 30 minutes for the Terps, scoring three goals and adding an assist and effectively moving the ball away from oncoming double teams.

Brooke Richards and Jessica Dorney each added a pair of scores, and Katie Doolittle added a breakaway score as time was expiring to help Maryland build a 10-6 lead going into the half.

Penn State jumped back into the game in a hurry in the second half scoring three straight in 2:30. The Nittany Lions won all three draws and quickly converted to make it a one-goal game with 27:30 left in the game. Walker stopped the PSU run by converting on a free-position goal at 24:08.

Havrilla sparked another 3-0 Penn State run, scoring on two unassisted goals. Jessi Lieb added a free-position goal to give the Nittany Lions their first lead since the first minute of the game.

Kasper knotted the game at 12-12 with just under 10 minutes left on a free-position goal after drawing a foul on a strong move to the cage, but Shari Maslin notched the game-winner at 2:25 for PSU after working behind the cage, rolling out around the right side and getting free on a spin move just outside the crease.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. -- Maryland ripped off eight straight second half goals to erase a 6-4 deficit and defeat Ohio State, 13-8, Sunday afternoon in the final game of the ACC/Big Ten Challenge at Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium in Annapolis. Acacia Walker and Annie Collins each registered four points on the day and goalie Kirah Miles stopped 15 shots in the victory.

Maryland held a 4-2 lead late in the first half, but the Buckeyes notched a pair in the game's final two minutes to tie the score at 4-4 heading into halftime.

The Buckeyes looked to take control of the game after taking a 6-4 lead with 26:34 left in the game, but the Terps started an 8-0 run over the next 11 minutes to take command. Jessica Dorney and Katie Doolittle scored two goals just :22 apart to spark the run.

Dorney gave the Terps its final lead of the game on a tough angle on the left side of the cage after following Richards around the crease. Richards then forced a turnover after Ohio State won the draw, and Collins connected with Walker to push the lead to 8-6. Walker, Kasper and Casey Magor added goals to make it 11-6 in Maryland's favor with 19:04 remaining in the game.

On Ohio State's only quality possession in the Maryland run, Miles was up to the task of keeping the Buckeyes off the board. Miles turned away Kristen Slahor's free-position shot and made a save on Evans' shot just a minute later. The Terps successfully moved the ball upfield and Doolittle scored on a low shot past Kim Hastings to cap the 8-0 run, propelling Maryland to the victory.

BLACKSBURG, Va. -- Katie Doolittle scored five goals and an assist to lead Maryland to a 14-7 ACC victory over Virginia Tech Saturday afternoon in Blacksburg. Annie Collins added five points on three goals and two assists for the Terps, and the defense forced 15 of the Hokies' 24 turnovers in the win.

Doolittle scored first for the Terps on a free-position shot at 24:41. Less than a minute later, Collins found Brooke Richards around the edge of the net where she converted on a tough angle. The two teams traded possessions for the next seven minutes before Greta Sommers threaded a pass to Doolittle for a goal at the 16-minute mark. Collins bounced a free-position shot past the goalie and Kelly Kasper scored on a nice catch-and-shoot on a pass from Richards to push the lead to 5-0 with just over two minutes left in the half. Britt Faulkner got the Hokies on the scoreboard with just :19 seconds left in the first half on a tough unassisted goal through traffic. Maryland went into the half with a 5-1 lead.

Acacia Walker opened the second half with a goal for the Terps before Faulkner tallied a pair for Virginia Tech to make the score 6-3. Collins helped Maryland to its next two goals, scoring once and assisting on Doolittle's goal. The Hokies again pulled to within three goals at 8-5 with just under 15 minutes to play after Lindsay Pieper and Stephanie Jones scored, but the Terps closed the game with a 6-2 run. Doolittle notched a pair, and Kasper, Collins, Cox and Walker added scores to finish off the Hokies.

In addition to their stellar offensive performances, Doolittle and Collins also helped the Terps on the defensive end causing three turnovers each. Greta Sommers helped limit the Hokies' leading scorer, Natasha Fuchs, to just one assist and scooped a team-high five ground balls.

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Fourth-ranked Georgetown outscored No. 9 Maryland 6-2 in the second half to rally past the Terps, 8-6, Wednesday evening at North Kehoe Field in Washington, D.C. Greta Sommers scored a goal and two assists and shut down Georgetown's Coco Stanwick on defense, but the Hoyas managed to keep the Terps off the board in the game's final 23 minutes to complete the comeback.

Sommers helped stake Maryland out to a 3-1 in the first 10 minutes of the game by leading the Terps in transition. Sommers dished two assists carrying the ball into the zone and scored on herself to give Maryland the early lead.

After Annie Collins connected on a pass to Dorney to put Maryland up 4-1 at the 16:54 mark, the goalies took over the game. Georgetown's Lucy Poole broke through for the Hoyas with just over three minutes left in the first half with a free-position goal to cut Maryland's lead to 4-2 going into the half.

Maryland stretched its lead to 6-2 with a pair of goals in the first seven minutes of the second half. From there, Georgetown slowly chipped away at the Maryland lead and stymied Maryland's transition. A Maryland turnover in its on zone sparked the Georgetown momentum as Lauren Redler picked off an errant Terp pass and drove to the cage uncontested for the score. The Hoyas won the ensuing draw and Poole cut the Maryland lead to 6-4 with an unassisted goal at 18:01.

The Terps again failed to control the draw, and after a re-start behind the cage on a missed free-position shot by Allison Chambers, Catherine Elbe found Chambers off the re-start for the score. The Hoyas tied the game at 6-6 after Laryn Bernier used a strong one-on-one move to get past her defender and finish.

Stanwick's lone goal of the game turned out to be the game-winner just 47 seconds after the Bernier tied the game. After taking the lead with over eight minutes left, the Hoyas were successful in keeping the ball out of the Terps' possession.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. -- Acacia Walker scored five goals, including four in the second half, to lead ninth-ranked Maryland to a 12-10 victory over No. 12 Johns Hopkins in front of 1,014 fans at Ludwig Field Saturday afternoon. Delia Cox added four points on three goals and one assist, and defender Greta Sommers helped limit Johns Hopkins' Mary Key to just one goal on the day.

The game's opening minutes were played at a frenetic pace, with the two teams combining for seven goals in the first 12 minutes. The Terps (8-5) held onto a slim 4-3 advantage through the game's next 17 minutes before Annie Wagner tied it with a goal with 1:24 left in the first frame. Johns Hopkins (7-3) goalie Lauren Riddick helped limit the Terps to just four goals in the first half with seven saves.

Trailing 7-5, the Blue Jays' Sarah Walsh scored an unassisted goal at 19:49, but that was as close as Hopkins would get as Maryland went on a critical 3-0 run to push its lead to four. Walker took a feed from Krista Pellizzi and then made a nice one-on-one move in front of the net to spark the run, and Pellizzi and Katie Doolittle each converted on free-position shots to give the Terps a 10-6 advantage with just over 16 minutes left in the game.

The Blue Jays got back to within two after a pair of Walsh goals in just over a minute, but Walker countered with a pair of goals of her own to make it 12-8 with 11:47 left. JHU scored a pair, but the Terps were able to control possession throughout the game's remaining minutes to secure the victory.

Maryland goalie Kirah Miles made nine saves on the game, including six in the second half and one from point-blank range with 24 seconds left in the game.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. -- Maryland raced out to an 8-2 halftime lead and withstood a second half run by No. 6 North Carolina to upend the Tar Heels, 14-7, at Henry Field in Chapel Hill, N.C. Delia Cox led all scorers with four goals and one assist to help the Terps to their first regular season win over UNC at Chapel Hill since 1996.

After falling behind 2-1 early in the first half after a pair of unsettled goals for the Tar Heels, the Terps roared back scoring the half's next seven goals. Maryland disrupted the Tar Heels all over the field as North Carolina committed 11 first half turnovers, many of them coming in transition. Annie Collins tied the game at 2-2 with an unassisted goal at 13:45, and the Terps took the lead they would not relinquish just 36 seconds later as Casey Magor made a tough catch on a Jessica Dorney pass between two defenders and converted for the goal.

After a Kasper goal to start the second half, North Carolina started to mount a charge pouring in four goals in just 2:17.

After a UNC score made it 9-6, Magor controlled the next draw for Maryland and Cox found the net on her own to end the Tar Heel run. Juras again pulled UNC back to within three goals at 10-7, but Maryland closed the game with four goals, highlighted by two from Doolittle, to end UNC's comeback bid.

Kirah Miles made nine saves for Maryland, while her counterpart Kristen Hordy made seven. Becky Clipp and Collins each had three caused turnovers, and Megan Sommar scooped up five ground balls to lead the Terps.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. -- Eight different Maryland players scored goals to lead the Terps to a convincing 20-4 win over No. 13 Syracuse Saturday afternoon at Ludwig Field. Annie Collins led all scorers with five goals and two assists, and Kelly Kasper added four goals to help pace the Terp offense. Kirah Miles made 10 saves in the cage to help limit the Syracuse offense to its lowest output of the season.

The Maryland defense stifled the Orange offense all day, refusing to allow quality looks. Syracuse's leading scorer Caitlyn Dragon was held scoreless on just two shots, and Monica Joines netted just one goal for the Orange. The Terp defense also allowed Syracuse just one second half goal.

Collins and Doolittle scored off the first two draws to give Maryland a 2-0 lead after just two minutes played. Joines scored two minutes later to make it 2-1 at the 26-minute mark, but that was as close as the Orange would be the rest of the day. Maryland went on a 3-0 run before Syracuse scored again, and then rattled off five more in the next 10 minutes to take a commanding 10-2 lead. Collins fought her way to the goal in the waning seconds of the first half and scored her second goal of the afternoon with just two seconds left.

Furstenburg scored first in the second half for Syracuse to make it 11-4, but that was the last score for the Orange. Maryland scored nine more goals over the game's final 28 minutes to complete the rout. Collins had three goals in that run, and Dorney added a pair for the Terps.

Miles made three second half saves before giving way to Kate Capelle and Allie Buote.

BALTIMORE, Md. -- Senior midfielder Cary Chasney scored five goals and added an assist as the University of Virginia (13-3) advanced to the Atlantic Coast Conference women's lacrosse championship game with a 15-11 victory over the University of Maryland (10-5) in the ACC semifinals at M&T Bank Stadium on Friday afternoon.

Chasney scored three of her five goals in the first half as the Cavaliers took an 8-4 advantage in the opening 30 minutes and held on for the victory.

"I thought we played tough today, but we just couldn't overcome our rough start," head coach Cindy Timchal said. "Every time we would get a run going, they would respond. But we kept sticking with it and fighting, we just came up a bit short."

The Cavaliers jumped out to a quick 4-1 lead in the first 7:13 of the game with sophomore Kate Breslin sparking the spurt with two goals. The Terrapins cut the deficit to 4-3 with back-to-back goals from senior Annie Collins and freshman Kelly Kasper.

Nikki Lieb scored her 12th goal of the season with 20:32 remaining in the first half to ignite another 4-1 run by the Cavaliers, giving Virginia the four-goal lead at intermission.

Kasper teamed up with junior Delia Cox for consecutive goals to start the second half, narrowing the Maryland deficit to 8-6, but that was the closest the Terrapins would get as Virginia held on for its fifth straight win over the Terps.

Kasper led the Terrapins with three goals and one assist in a losing effort. Becky Clipp was stellar for Maryland on defense with a game-high five caused turnovers for the Terps to go with seven ground balls. Kirah Miles had eight saves in the game. Cox, Doolittle and Pellizzi each netted a pair of goals for Maryland.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. -- Brooke Richards rolled around the right side of the crease and fired a shot on a tough angle past the Princeton goalie to give Maryland a 13-12 overtime win over the Tigers.

Richards scored five points on three goals and two assists to lead the Terps. Katie Doolittle scored a pair of goals and added an assist and added a game-high six draw controls. Kelly Kasper and Krista Pellizzi also contributed three points for Maryland. Casey Magor took most of the draws for the Terps, controlling four herself to go with a pair of goals. Delia Cox had four points on two goals and two assists as well as a game-high six ground balls.

The Terps held a 10-7 lead with 16 minutes left in the game, but Princeton scored three unanswered in regulation, including two from Katie Lewis-Lamonica, to send the game into overtime.

Katie Doolittle came up with the opening draw in overtime, but the Terps promptly turned the ball over. Lewis-Lamonica scored her fifth goal of the night on a strong move to the cage at 1:39 in the first overtime. The Terps quickly answered, though, after Richards connected on a pass to Doolittle 50 seconds after the Tiger goal. Kolodner made a save on a Cox shot with 25 seconds left, and Princeton raced down the field and Kathleen Miller was able to draw and convert on an 8-meter shot.

Cox opened the second overtime period by winning the draw and then finding Casey Magor for a goal just 23 seconds into the second overtime. Doolittle opened the fourth overtime period with her game-high sixth draw control of the day. After a Jessica Dorney shot missed to the right, Richards worked behind the net. She rolled to the right and got the game-winer past Kolodner with 2:13 on the clock to snap Maryland's three-game losing streak to Princeton.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. -- Jessica Dorney scored two goals and three assists on Senior Day to lead the eight-ranked Maryland Terrapins to a 14-9 win over Loyola Saturday on Senior Day. The Terps broke a 6-6 halftime tie with a 7-1 second half run, with three goals coming off the stick of sophomore Katie Doolittle.

In addition to her five points, Dorney also forced two turnovers, scooped three ground balls and had four draws for the Terps. Senior Greta Sommers caused four Loyola turnovers and added three draw controls and four ground balls in her regular season finale at Ludwig Field.

The first half went back and forth, as no team ever held more than a one-goal lead in the first 30 minutes of action. Kate McHarg was stellar for the Greyhounds, scoring three and assisting on another to help keep the game tied at 6-6 going into the intermission. Goalie Kirah Miles made five first half saves for the Terps, including a point-blank save on a Loyola breakaway.

Doolittle and Dorney helped spark the Terps in the second half, with each scoring a goal and Dorney also adding an assist in the first eight minutes of action to make the score 9-6. Bridget Zingler stopped Maryland's run with a goal at 20:19, but the Terps responded just 11 seconds later as Dorney and Doolittle hooked up again for a Maryland score.

Brooke Richards scored her third goal of the day, and Casey Magor and Kelly Kasper tacked on goals to make the score 13-7 with just over eight minutes left in the game. McHarg converted a free-position shot at 5:31 and Maura Kenny added another under a minute later, but Delia Cox added a late goal before the Terps ran out the clock for the 14-9 victory.

PRINCETON, N.J. - The Princeton Tigers put on a late first half surge and shut down Maryland's offense in the second half on its way to a 16-8 win Thursday afternoon at Class of 1952 Stadium in the first round of the NCAA Tournament.

Princeton (13-4) was led by Kathleen Miller's five goals and one assist, and Lindsey Biles added four goals and two assists to pace the Tiger attack. Elizabeth Pillion, who did not play the last time the two teams met, added a hat trick.

The Terps, who end the season with a 12-7 mark, were led offensively by two goals apiece from freshman Kelly Kasper and sophomore Katie Doolittle. Senior Greta Sommers scored a goal and forced three turnovers and had four ground balls for the Terps.

"It just wasn't our day, and it wasn't our day because we faced a very good Princeton team who played us very tough," head coach Cindy Timchal said. "I'm very proud of this group and what they accomplished, but we just came up short today. We are disappointed for all of our players, but especially our seniors who really laid it all on the line for us today."

In controlling the possession of the game, the Tigers limited outshot Maryland by a 31-17 margin, and held a 16-10 advantage in draw controls. The Terps committed 22 turnovers in the game as they failed to get in an offensive rhythm.

Princeton controlled the ball early on, but the Terps managed a 3-2 lead through 14 minutes of action after Katie Doolittle finished off a rebound on a Jessica Dorney shot. The Tigers surged at the end of the half, though, going on a 5-1 run in the half's last six minutes. Biles sparked the Princeton run scoring two goals and assisting on another. Kasper scored Maryland's fourth goal in the game and her second on the afternoon after working through traffic and holding off a defender on her back.

Princeton out-shot Maryland 14-7 on its way to the 7-4 halftime advantage.

The Tigers kept things rolling in the second half, with Miller scoring three times for Princeton in the second half's opening 12 minutes to make the score 10-4. The Terps were unable to sustain quality possessions during that span, turning the ball over in the offensive zone before being able to get a shot off. After another Elizabeth Pillion goal, Greta Sommers got Maryland on the board in the second half after controlling the draw and racing down the field and drawing a foul in the fan. She bounced her free-position shot past Sarah Kolodner for the score.

Princeton fired right back off the draw with Pillion getting past the Terrapin defense and scoring to make it 12-5. Just a minute later, Brooke Richards worked just right of the cage and fired back to find Casey Magor for the goal. The Tigers went on a 4-0 spurt over the game's next eight minutes to stretch its lead to 16-6. Doolittle scored on a free-position shot and Acacia Walker scored the last goal of her stellar career to round out the Terp scoring effort.

All-Time Terp Greats

The 2002-2003 athletics year was a special one in Atlantic Coast Conference history as the league marked its 50th anniversary. As part of the golden celebrati the conference named all-time teams from each of the sports it sponsors. The ACC has a short but rich history in women's lacrosse as over half (11) of the 21 NC championships have been won by current ACC schools – with nine of those being won by Maryland. Needless to say, when the list of the ACC's 55 all-time best play was released at the end of 2002, it was dotted with Terrapins. Sixty percent of the team – or a total of 33 players – were from the University of Maryland, a reflection strong as any of the tradition that is Maryland lacrosse.

"STRIVE FOR CLARITY, BUT ACCEPT AND UNDERSTAND AMBIGUITY."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions and accept ambiguity."

AND WE ALSO HOPE YOU ENJOY THE JOURNEY.

FEAR THE TURTLE

2006 MARYLAND WOMEN'S LACROSSE

University of Maryland

THE CAMPUS

By virtually every measure of quality, the University of Maryland has gained national recognition as one of the fastest-rising comprehensive research institutions in the country. The momentum of recent years has poised the university to move it into the top ranks of higher education and take leadership in shaping the research university of the 21st century.

The university has enjoyed a decade of momentum in all of the areas that affect quality. The average high school GPA of entering students has zoomed from 3.01 to nearly 3.90, and the average SATs are now more than 1270. The student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 32 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

The university has 79 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the Top 25 by U.S. News and World Report, up from just one program in 1991.

Sponsored research and outreach has nearly tripled in the same 10-year period, exceeding $350 million last year. Private giving also has increased, and the university last year concluded its first campaign by topping its $350 million goal by more than $100 million. Alumni Association membership has been growing at an average rate of 10 percent a year since 1992.

One of the largest research universities in the United States, Fall 2004 enrollment was 25,140 undergraduate and 9,793 graduate students. There are 94 undergraduate programs, 89 master's programs, 70 doctoral programs and one first professional degree program. More than 100 centers and institutes are engaged in research and outreach.

Faculty at the University of Maryland, in all fields of knowledge, are engaged at the highest levels of national and international concern. The university's location near the center of federal policy-making and international political and economic activity enables it to play an active role in research and analysis of public policy.

Maryland is one of 30 public universities in the prestigious 63-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa.

DID YOU KNOW?

In 1991, Maryland had one program listed among Top 25 entrants in the U.S. News & World Report Rankings. Maryland now has 79 programs ranked among the nation's elite, and the university is ranked 18th nationally among public universities.

A report card published in Technology Review rated the top U.S. universities in their quest for intellectual property, commercial partners and profits. Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland (28th) were the Mid-Atlantic (Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia) schools to make the "campus patenting" top 50 list.

Black Issues In Higher Education ranked the university fourth nationally in bachelor's degrees earned by African-American students at traditionally white schools. Maryland ranks first in African-American undergraduate degrees in social sciences and history.

The Wall Street Journal ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 16 among the world's business schools. Maryland is the top-ranked school in the Mid-Atlantic region (Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia). The Financial Times of London ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 8 in information technology, No. 6 in faculty research and No. 7 in entrepreneurship.

In the undergraduate program rankings released by U.S. News & World Report both the A. James Clark School of Engineering (No. 17) and the College of Education (No. 22) were ranked among the top 25.

DR. C.D. MOTE

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '59
SEVENTH YEAR

In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, began his tenure as President of the University Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor Engineering. He was recruited to lead the Universi of Maryland to national eminence under a manda by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environme of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentu generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academ programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among publ research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broa access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs ar launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full suppo to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordina adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience ar biotechnology, and nano-technology sectors. President Mote has greatly expande the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and succes fully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Pa sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the Universit has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/Co lege Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among it first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of th University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospher Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the larges building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breakin ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the art to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with th private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity includ the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state o the art sports complex; a high tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms fo chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also le the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 2 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyse of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He ha testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for internationa students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the reques of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National In novation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness. He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005 he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking ir 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.

Deborah A. Yow

ATHLETICS DIRECTOR • 12TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Deborah A. Yow is in the 12th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought continued improvement and accomplishment in Terrapin athletics. In Yow's 12 years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable 11 NCAA national championships and graduated its student-athletes at an enviable rate, as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada.

She was honored in December, 2004, by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics, and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She recently served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television. Yow led the committee during the successful renegotiation of comprehensive, multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics." She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Hall of Fame.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization.
- Balanced all 11 of the department's annual budgets (the first balanced budgets in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $50 million annually and the multi-million dollar accumulated operating debt which her administration inherited has been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student athletes at Maryland.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.

IN DECEMBER OF 2004, DEBORAH A. YOW WAS NAMED ONE OF THE MOST INFLUENTIAL PEOPLE IN COLLEGE ATHLETICS BY STREET & SMITH'S SPORTS BUSINESS JOURNAL.

2006 MARYLAND WOMEN'S LACROSSE

- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the dramatic upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team has appeared in 11 of the last 12 NCAA Tournaments, one of only six schools to do so.
- Women's basketball also won its way to the NCAA Tournament in 2004 and 2005, advancing to the second round.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. Additionally, Maryland is one of only six universities to win a National Championship in both basketball and football (UCLA, Michigan, Michigan State, Syracuse, Ohio State and Maryland).
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics in 2004, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- Hired the Associated Press National Coach of the Year, Brenda Frese, as the new women's basketball coach. In her third season at the helm, her team drew more than 17,243 to a regular-season game and advanced to the NCAA Tournament.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four in his second year.
- Men's Soccer won the NCAA national championship in 2005 and has made four consecutive appearances in the NCAA College Cup.
- Field Hockey won the NCAA national championship in 2005 and continues to be a perennial Final Four team.
- Women's Lacrosse has continued its winning ways with seven national championships from 1995-2001, with additional Final Four appearances.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades. The Academic Center was the first improvement, as it took priority over all other initiatives.
- The Terrapins have moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center, housing athletic department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events.
- In 2004-05, 18 Maryland teams competed in NC/ postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive a academic achievement of Terrapin athletics a exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrap athletics over the past 11 years, Yow says, "We a pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision to be one of the Top 5 programs in the nati consistently... we see no reason to settle f less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proacti management style. She consistently inspires ar challenges those around her to "raise our sights ar sharpen our tools... to work hard and smart... recognize that our only limitations are those th we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly mode these principles. She is the only known current A in NCAA Division I who has hired both the Nation Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) ar the National Coach of the Year in men's basketb (while at Saint Louis University). Yow is known as ' coach's AD," while also being highly organized ar a strategic and proactive leader and administrato Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relation and management dynamics that are necessary to b an excellent administrator.

A successful former basketball coach at th University of Kentucky and University of Florida, sh moved into athletics administration at the Universit of Florida and the University of North Carolina Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as AD a Saint Louis University from 1990 through 1994.

She has authored numerous articles and book on athletics management and human behavior, an is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in th United States.

Summing up the entire Maryland athletics program our athletics director recently stated, "We have th finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff an administrative team in America. It is because of thei courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that w now have a strong, viable athletic program. I an immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Clul members who faithfully support the Maryland athleti program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President, Dr. Dan Mote who has fostered a mindset of excellence across ou institution. He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University - Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a grea Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of ou success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

Academic Support and Career Development

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by assistant athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Dena Freeman-Patton (right) works with the women's lacrosse team.

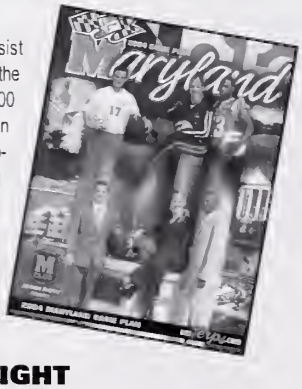
The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for six professional academic counselors, a director of ILP programs, an assistant program coordinator and two graduate assistants. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house last Fall. It features offices for two counselors, three learning specialist, and a graduate assistant; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.



CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume-writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Departme of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport ar meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.(mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skill promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on th Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success (C.H.A.M.P.S.) Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "lif learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and gradu ation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal anc social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communitie for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS COMMITMENT STATEMENTS

Commitment to Academic Excellence To support the academic progress of the student athlete toward intellectual development and graduation.

Commitment to Athletic Excellence To build philosophical foundations for the develop ment of athletic programs that are broad-based, equitable and dedicated to the well-being of the student-athlete.

Commitment to Personal Development To support the development of a well-balanced lifestyle for student-athletes, encouraging emotional well-being, personal growth and deci sion-making skills.

Commitment to Career Development To encourage the student-athlete to develop and pursue career and life goals.

Commitment to Service To engage student-athletes in service to his/her campus and surrounding communities.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR RETURNING ATHLETES PROGRAM

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.

SO MUCH SO CLOSE

City lights, history, sparkling waterfronts, monumental landscapes. Jazz, film festivals, marches and demonstrations. Shopping, professional sports, regattas on the Chesapeake Bay. Not just one city, but three. Not just any city, but the nation's capital, a major port city, and the state capital of Maryland.

WASHINGTON, D.C.

BALTIMORE

WASHINGTON, D.C.

The nation's capital and its major attractions are within 10 miles of Comcast Center. And the highly efficient Metro rail system, with a station at the campus doorstep, makes navigating the greater Washington, D.C., area easy. Campus shuttle buses serve the College Park Metro station, allowing easy access to one of the country's model transportation systems.

BALTIMORE

The 12th largest city in the United States is often referred to as the "Charm City." Located just 35 miles north of the University of Maryland, its rejuvenation as an urban center is unprecedented. The Inner Harbor, its National Aquarium and tall ships, and the nearby Oriole Park at Camden Yards create an exciting, vibrant holiday atmosphere in a city that boasts one of the world's great sea ports.

ANNAPOLIS

The state capital of Maryland lies just 30 miles east of the University of Maryland. Long called the "sailing capital of the United States," Annapolis is located at the mouth of the Severn River on the Chesapeake Bay. The historic downtown area is known for its wonderful eating and shopping opportunities. There are few places in the world that rival the Chesapeake Bay area for its appealing qualities.

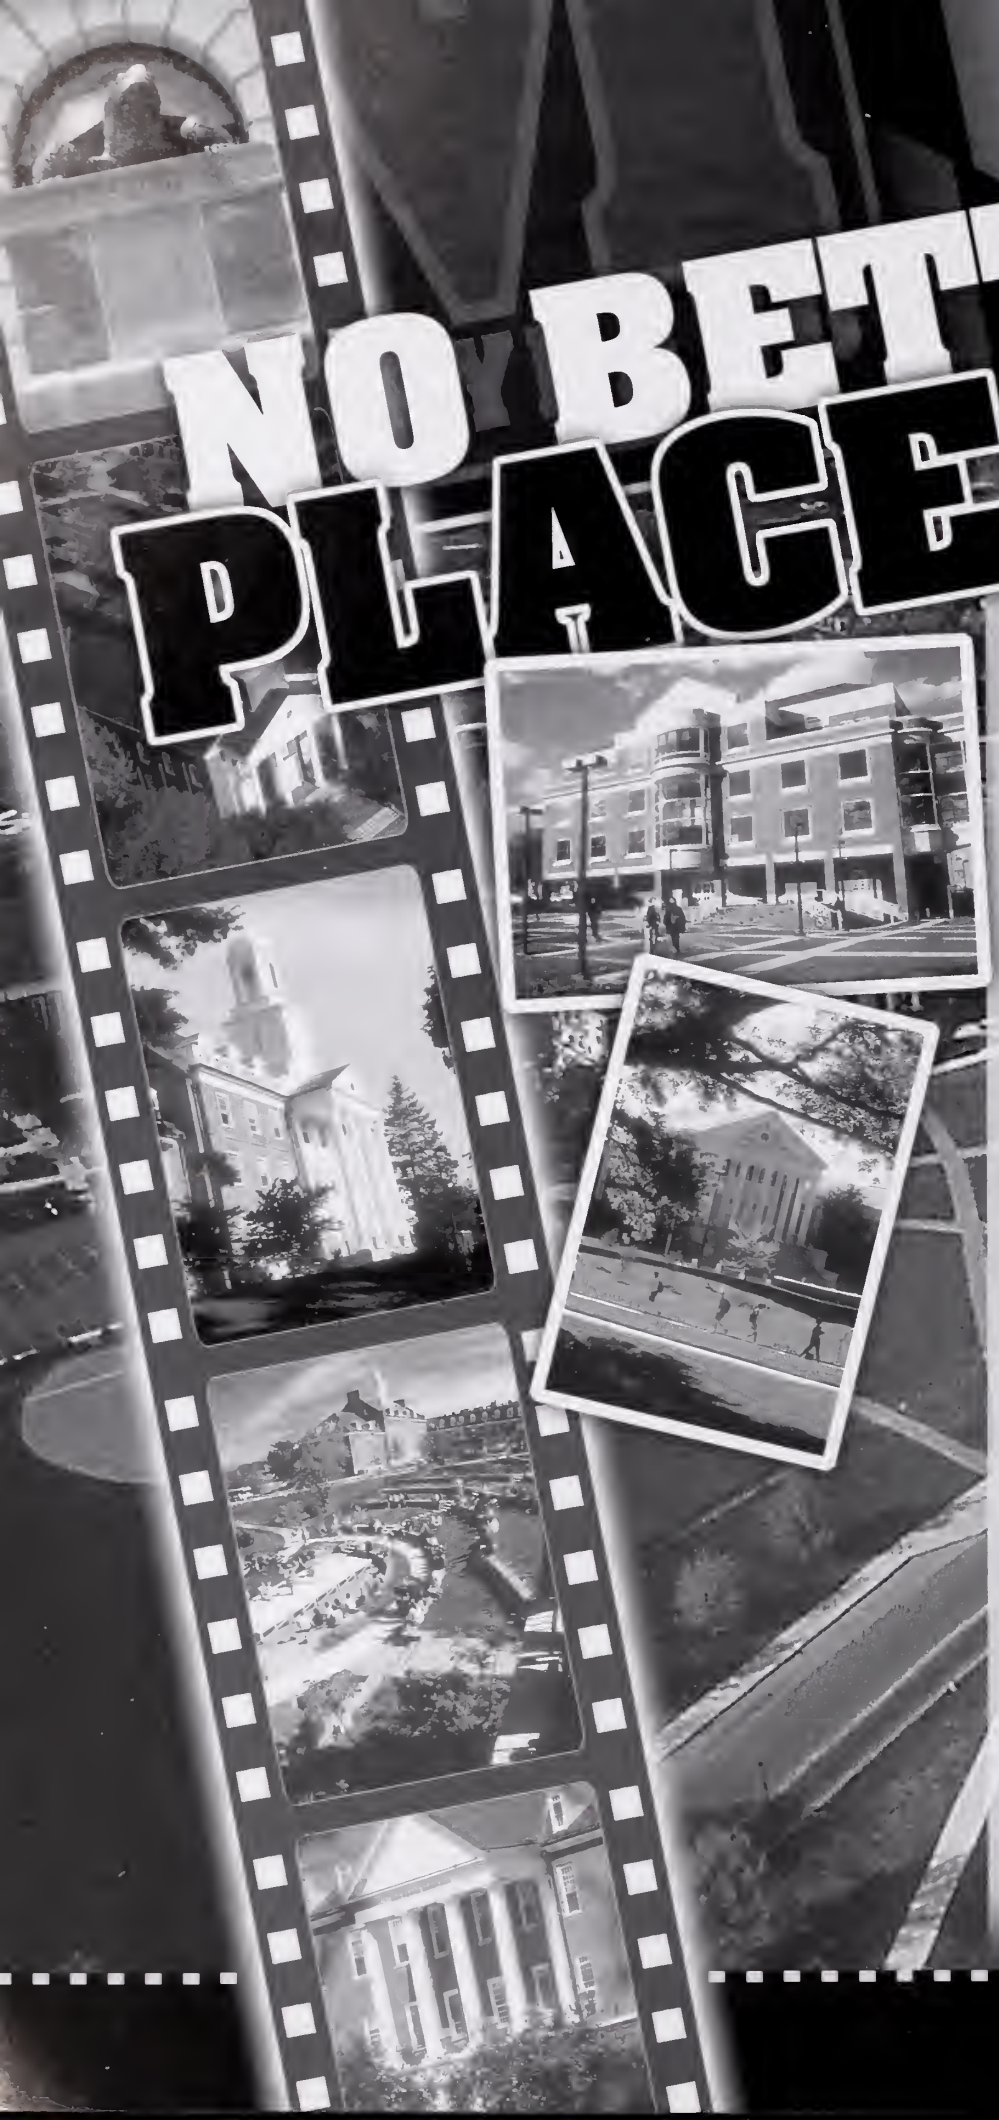
NO BETTER PLACE TO BE



There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park. With its top-ranked academic programs, nationally recognized faculty, diverse population, and lush 1,580-acre campus located between Washington, D.C., and Baltimore, Md., it's no wonder the University of Maryland is a sought-after destination for some of the state's — and the country's — best and brightest students.

Attracting them are some 111 majors and some of the highest-ranked programs in the country. As of 2005, 79 programs rank in the Top 25 nationally and 51 programs are in the Top 15. For instance, in the latest U.S. News & World Report undergraduate rankings, the University of Maryland's business school was rated 22nd nationally, while the engineering school was ranked 22nd. In graduate school rankings, the A. James Clark School of Engineering, the School of Public Affairs, the College of Behavioral & Social Sciences, the Robert H. Smith School of Business and the College of Education all had specialties listed among the Top 25 in the nation, according to U.S. News & World Report.

High-tech, engineering, and service industries thrive in close proximity to the campus, offering a wide spectrum of internships, work-study opportunities and career choices for students. And, the campus is surrounded by the dynamic cultural opportunities that only a major metropolitan area can provide.

Whether your focus is the sciences or the humanities, a small-town atmosphere or a metropolitan feel, the University of Maryland offers a wide range of educational and cultural opportunities.

There truly is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park.
